

SAY Sí [San Antonio Youth, YES!] Fast Facts

SAY Sí Promotes & Provides Arts-Based Youth Development:

Mission:

Serving San Antonio's youth, SAY Sí is a year round, long-term, non-profit multidisciplinary arts-based youth development program that provides students opportunities to advance artistic and social skills in preparation for higher educational advancement and professional careers.

Vision:

SAY Sí is committed to creating a premier, dynamic and nurturing educational environment for San Antonio's artistic youth, recognizing that the arts reshape the way young people learn, communicate and prepare for their work and civic future. SAY Sí also strives to develop each individual student artist by enhancing their social, academic, cognitive and vocational competencies; improving their self-esteem and self-identity; and enhancing their character so that they will possess all the tools and motivation necessary to become productive, thoughtful citizens of our community.

A History of Excellence:

- For 11 years, 100% of SAY Sí students have graduated high school and entered a college program.
- SAY Sí's tuition-free programs serve nearly 200 middle and high school students, ranging in age from 10-19, attending schools in all 12 districts of San Antonio.
- SAY Sí is committed to serving San Antonio's inner-city youth, with 60% of its current students coming from low-income households.
- SAY Sí's Artists Building Communities [ABC] program reaches over 4,000 San Antonio youth annually through community programming.
- SAY Sí is the Regional Affiliate for the San Antonio Scholastic Art & Writing Awards, working with students, teachers, schools, and nonprofit arts organizations in Bexar County to identify, motivate and validate the next generation of artists.
- SAY Sí alumni are accepted into some of the nation's most prestigious universities and arts-programs. In 2012, 29 high school seniors [SAY Sí's largest graduating class] attained over $500,000 in combined scholarships and financial aid awards. Schools include: Emerson in Boston, School of Visual Art - New York, Milwaukee Institute of Art & Design, UT Austin as well as local colleges and universities.

- SAY Sí is a nationally recognized organization, held up as a model out-of-school-time arts program that, according to The Wallace Foundation, contains quality principles that should be replicated nationwide. [Something to Say white paper, 2013]
- SAY Sí was one of seven international youth arts organizations chosen to receive an inaugural Creative Catalyst Award by Adobe Project 1324 on Tuesday, February 8, 2016. Creative Catalyst Awards are given to organizations across the globe that support and inspire the next generation of creatives.
- Project 1324 also awarded SAY Sí with an Innovation Grant to fund a new SAY Sí-led initiative called Project Papalote. Through Project Papalote, SAY Sí staff and youth will travel to Boston, Massachusetts; Salt Lake City, Utah; Mexico City, Mexico and Kolkata, India to work with other youth development organizations to collaboratively create media projects that focus on the theme of identifying borders and breaking boundaries.

Core Values:

- Dedication to Quality Arts Education
- Encouraging High Standards of Achievement
- Fostering Excellence and Leadership
- Contributing to a Community of Reciprocal Learning
- Providing a Culture of Support, Creativity and Purpose.

How Students Join SAY Sí:

SAY Sí recruits new students two times a year during the spring and fall - in January and September. Students are eligible to join SAY Sí at NO COST as long as they have parental/guardian permission, reliable transportation, are in middle school or high school [public, private or home school] and maintain a minimum C average in school. Students must also commit to attending the program regularly [at least 8 hours per week for high school students & Saturdays for middle school students] and long-term, complete projects in a timely manner while acting as a positive influence in the studios.

While SAY Sí accepts a diverse array of students from all areas of town, first priority is given to students from San Antonio's inner city and from lower economic households.

To apply to SAY Sí, a student needs to:

1. Choose a program area from the following:
 MAS: Media Arts High School Program
 VA: Visual Arts High School Program
 ALAS: Theatre Program
 HIVE: Game Design Program
 WAM: Multidisciplinary Middle School Program
2. Read and complete the packet for either high school or middle school, which includes: student application, student memorandum of understanding, medical release, media release and income form. Packets are available one month prior to recruitment periods at SAY Sí or for download on the SAY Sí website.
3. One week before recruitment begins, call 210.212.8666 to set up an interview with a SAY Sí instructor. Interviews will not be scheduled prior to one week before recruitment begins.
